Join me in a bite-by-bite prayer journey through the ingredients that make up God's spiritual fruit that is presented in Galatians 5:22-23. There aren't separate pieces of fruit, like in a cluster of grapes. No, God put these separate entities into one single piece of fruit for us to ingest for nourishment.

These prayers incorporate Jesus' command to approach God as little children. The intimacy that brings out makes these extremely touching to pray. The summary prayer that closes this book is a look at how Jesus emulated all of these ingredients in His life.

Your walk with God will be so much deeper after you read these prayers and ponder their significance in your life.

I think Paul may have thought about the fruit Adam and Eve ate in the Garden of Eden when he wrote these verses. Perhaps this is what he thought became missing in our relationship with God from the fall-out from that decision by them.

This is the 4th book in this 8 part series of ebooks based on prayers I wrote for the children's fiction email loop of the American Christian Fiction Writers. I plan on printing these into one book called 100 PRAYERS OF A WRITER. Until then I hope you enjoy, are touched, and grow from reading and praying these prayers for yourself.

This book isn't designed to be read from cover to cover in one sitting. Read each prayer slowly. Think about the theme of each one. Let the message seep into your soul.

Some people read one prayer first thing in the morning to set the mood for their day. Others will re-read one prayer each day for a week so they catch something new each time they go through each prayer. Whichever method you choose to read these prayers I know they can impact you if you let them.
